

DID YOU KNOW THAT FOR WOMEN WITH DISABILITIES THE RISK OF VIOLENCE IS HIGHER?

Others control your documents, clothing, relationships, movement, access to money, food, health and education services

IF:

You are a victim of physical or psychological violence

You experience sexual harassment or violence

They force you to work against your will

OR:

Do you know anyone who is a victim of violence and needs help?

KNOW WHO TO TURN TO!

The Public Safety Command Centre “112”
(for ambulance, fire or police) – Hot Line - 24/7.

Download the 112 application, which is free of charge and available in Georgian, English, Russian, Armenian, Azerbaijani languages, as well as for deaf and hard-of-hearing persons.

For IOS

For Android

Use the SOS button - send a silent alarm to 112 and chat with the operator.

The main advantage of the application is the immediate determination of the location of the caller.

Counselling hotline for victims of violence - “116 006”

The helpline offers counselling on issues of domestic violence and violence against women, sexual violence, human trafficking, round the clock (24/7), free of charge and in the following languages: Georgian, English, Ukrainian, Azerbaijani, Turkish, Armenian, Arabic, Persian and Russian.

Shelters and crisis centres operate across the country, where victims of violence, including people with disabilities, are provided with various types of assistance.
