WHAT IS RESETTLEMENT?

Resettlement is one of the three durable solutions. Resettlement to a third country involves the selection and movement of a refugee from his/her country of asylum to another country that has agreed to admit him/her onto its territory and to permanently settle there. Resettlement is a limited solution available to refugees who meet very specific requirements. The criteria are defined by the Resettlement Country, specific protection needs and particular vulnerabilities. UNHCR monitors individual cases of refugees on an ongoing basis and determines those eligible for Resettlement Consideration.

WHO CAN BE CONSIDERED FOR RESETTLEMENT?

Resettlement Identification is done regardless of race, ethnicity, gender, marital status, education, level, social status, nationality or religion. In order to be identified for Resettlement, you need to meet the Resettlement criteria. No refugee is automatically entitled to Resettlement after living a number of years in their country of asylum.

HOW DOES UNHCR DECIDE WHO IS SUBMITTED FOR RESETTLEMENT?

Considering Resettlement criteria and the limited Resettlement places, not everyone who wants to be resettled will be resettled. The other two durable solutions - voluntary repatriation and local integration - are equally considered in each refugee’s situation. Each year, Resettlement Countries decide how they will allocate Resettlement places among the millions of refugees throughout the world, and UNHCR can only process cases for Resettlement submission within existing limits. Refugees must therefore be realistic about the chances of being submitted for Resettlement by UNHCR.

The Resettlement Countries, and not UNHCR, make the final decision concerning the Resettlement of a refugee.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS:

How do I know if I am being considered for Resettlement?

You should not assume that you have a Resettlement case or else have been considered for Resettlement, unless you are interviewed by a UNHCR Resettlement staff who informs you that you are invited to a Resettlement Interview and all aspects of Resettlement processing will then be explained to you. If following the Resettlement Interview, your case is positively assessed and meets the Resettlement criteria, it will be submitted to the Resettlement Country and you will be notified.

How do I know if I am being considered for Resettlement?

No. Final decisions regarding Resettlement to a Resettlement Country are done by the Governments of the Resettlement Countries. As such, there is no guarantee your case will be accepted for Resettlement until this is pronounced by the Resettlement Country. Additionally, Resettlement is a long process and if your case is accepted for Resettlement, job skills and education, including language skills, will be of fundamental importance in the Resettlement Country. Your skills will help you to better integrate once you are resettled!

If I have been interviewed for Resettlement, when should I follow up on my case?

UNHCR will inform you if and when your case is submitted to a Resettlement Country. If 3 months pass from the date of your Resettlement Interview and you are not informed, you may inquire on the status of your case. However note that the Resettlement process after the case has been submitted to the Resettlement Country varies between months and sometimes even years.

What is Resettlement?

Resettlement is one of the three durable solutions. Resettlement to a third country involves the selection and movement of a refugee from his/her country of asylum to another country that has agreed to admit him/her onto its territory and to permanently settle there. Resettlement is a limited solution available to refugees who meet very specific requirements. The criteria are defined by the Resettlement Country, specific protection needs and particular vulnerabilities. UNHCR monitors individual cases of refugees on an ongoing basis and determines those eligible for Resettlement Consideration.

Who can be considered for Resettlement?

Considering Resettlement criteria and the limited Resettlement places, not everyone who wants to be resettled will be resettled. The other two durable solutions - voluntary repatriation and local integration - are equally considered in each refugee’s situation. Each year, Resettlement Countries decide how they will allocate Resettlement places among the millions of refugees throughout the world, and UNHCR can only process cases for Resettlement submission within existing limits. Refugees must therefore be realistic about the chances of being submitted for Resettlement by UNHCR.

How does UNHCR decide who is submitted for Resettlement?

Resettlement Identification is done regardless of race, ethnicity, gender, marital status, education, level, social status, nationality or religion. In order to be identified for Resettlement, you need to meet the Resettlement criteria. No refugee is automatically entitled to Resettlement after living a number of years in their country of asylum.

What happens if my case is not recommended for Resettlement Consideration to the Resettlement Country?

If your case is found not to meet the Resettlement criteria and hence cannot be submitted for Resettlement at this time, you will be informed by UNHCR.

Can I appeal UNHCR’s decision not to recommend my case for Resettlement Consideration?

There is no appeal system if your case is found not to be in need of Resettlement by UNHCR.

What happens if I have been interviewed for Resettlement and there is a change in my family, such as marriage, birth or death?

You should inform UNHCR as soon as possible by calling the Helpline in South Africa. If you are a refugee in Namibia and Botswana, you should also inform the Office of the Commissioner. If you are in Madagascar, please inform CDA.

What happens if there are changes in my contact details?

You should inform UNHCR as soon as possible if there is a change in your contact details, including your physical address, your phone number and/or your email address.

WHAT IS RESETTLEMENT?

Resettlement is one of the three durable solutions. Resettlement to a third country involves the selection and movement of a refugee from his/her country of asylum to another country that has agreed to admit him/her onto its territory and to permanently settle there. Resettlement is a limited solution available to refugees who meet very specific requirements. The criteria are defined by the Resettlement Country, specific protection needs and particular vulnerabilities. UNHCR monitors individual cases of refugees on an ongoing basis and determines those eligible for Resettlement Consideration.

WHO CAN BE CONSIDERED FOR RESETTLEMENT?

Resettlement Identification is done regardless of race, ethnicity, gender, marital status, education, level, social status, nationality or religion. In order to be identified for Resettlement, you need to meet the Resettlement criteria. No refugee is automatically entitled to Resettlement after living a number of years in their country of asylum.

HOW DOES UNHCR DECIDE WHO IS SUBMITTED FOR RESETTLEMENT?

Considering Resettlement criteria and the limited Resettlement places, not everyone who wants to be resettled will be resettled. The other two durable solutions - voluntary repatriation and local integration - are equally considered in each refugee’s situation. Each year, Resettlement Countries decide how they will allocate Resettlement places among the millions of refugees throughout the world, and UNHCR can only process cases for Resettlement submission within existing limits. Refugees must therefore be realistic about the chances of being submitted for Resettlement by UNHCR.

The Resettlement Countries, and not UNHCR, make the final decision concerning the Resettlement of a refugee.
WHAT HAPPENS AFTER UNHCR RECOMMENDS A REFUGEE’S CASE TO A RESETTLEMENT COUNTRY?

> Step 1: The case is submitted to the most suitable Resettlement Country.
> Step 2: The Resettlement Country will assess the refugee’s case and may conduct interview(s) based on which a decision to accept or reject the case is made by the Resettlement Country.
> Step 3: A final decision is issued to the refugee by the Resettlement Country.
> Step 4: If accepted, each family member will undergo medical screenings and security clearances through the IOM.
> Step 5: A cultural orientation is arranged by the Resettlement Country and IOM.
> Step 6: Travel Arrangements are made by IOM upon receiving notice from the Resettlement Country.
> Step 7: Reception and integration in the Resettlement Country is provided for refugees arriving in the Resettlement Country.

WHO IS INVOLVED IN THE RESETTLEMENT PROCESS?

UNHCR only identifies cases for Resettlement Consideration to Resettlement Countries. The authorities of the Resettlement Countries make the decision as to whether a refugee will be accepted for Resettlement. Each Resettlement Country has its own regulations and procedures for Resettlement of refugees. These include medical screenings, security clearances and, in some cases, a further interview(s) with the Immigration Authorities of the Country of Resettlement.

REFUGEES IN THE USA / CANADA RESETTLEMENT PROCESS

During the interviews UNHCR and representatives from the Resettlement Country will ask the refugee detailed questions about his/her history and background related to their country of origin and country of asylum. It is very important that the information provided is truthful, clear, accurate and complete. The Resettlement Country will rely on this information when considering your case, assessing your credibility and determining whether you qualify for Resettlement in that country. For this reason, you must tell the truth during all of your interviews and not withhold any information which could be relevant to your Resettlement case.

The entire Resettlement process is complex and involves many steps; it takes a long time. Refugees should therefore be patient while their case is being processed. Be patient and prepared to wait for a final decision and departure formalities, if accepted.

Refugees submitted to the US Resettlement Admissions Program can get updates on their cases by sending an email to: case@cwssafrica.org

CONFIDENTIALITY

All Resettlement files that are processed by UNHCR are kept strictly confidential. UNHCR will request refugees whose cases are submitted for Resettlement Consideration to sign a declaration authorizing UNHCR to share all information and any documents pertaining to them and their family members with government officials from the Resettlement Country.

RESETTLEMENT FRAUD AWARENESS & PREVENTION

RESETTLEMENT IS FREE OF CHARGE

Refugees should not pay anyone to refer their case for Resettlement. All services provided by UNHCR and its implementing partners are FREE OF CHARGE. Please notify UNHCR if anyone tries to charge money for Resettlement.

UNHCR does not tolerate fraud and corruption. UNHCR is committed to combating fraud and corruption in order to preserve the integrity and credibility of the Resettlement process. Any refugee who attempts to commit fraud relating to his/her Resettlement case may be permanently disqualified from Resettlement under UNHCR auspices. Examples of such fraud would include: giving false information about your background; claiming a false identity or attempting to substitute yourself for another person; attempting to add a person onto your case who is not a genuine member of your family; paying money for Resettlement services; the unauthorized use of UNHCR’s name and logo.

If you are aware of fraud committed by another refugee report to:
UNHCR South Africa Multi-Country Office
Waterkloof House, 209 Waterkloof Road Brooklyn
 Pretoria, South Africa Tel: +27 +27 800 100 030
Corruption/bribery involving a UNHCR staff member should be reported to:
UNHCR Inspector General Office of the UNHCR Inspector General • Telephone HOTLINE: +41 22 739 8844 • Confidential fax: +41 22 739 7380 • Confidential e-mail: inspector@unhcr.org

CONTACT UNHCR

Helpline Number in South Africa and abroad: +27 800 100 030
or visit UNHCR Offices during Resettlement Counselling days:
• Namibia - Osire Settlement – every Tuesday at Youth Centre
• Botswana - Gaborone – every last Wednesday of the month at UNHCR Office